

Weekly Worship

Have yourself committed.

Join others in the journey as you make a decision March 1st...

It's hard to believe that February is almost history and we're about to enter March 2009 - wow! As we prepare to become "better tomorrow than we are today," we recognize that FFTF commitment Sunday is just eleven days away. On this meaningful morning we will each indicate our commitment to join in growing in our spiritual, physical, and financial fitness. Having done that, our SPF curriculum will launch throughout the month and our SPF teams will work to provide expanded opportunities for fellowship and accountability. I'm looking forward to "step one" as we get to "know our numbers."

Rehearsal Orders

*Thanks so much for joining us tonight!
As we begin, take a few moments to ensure that your cell phone is turned off, that you have a pencil, and that your music is in rehearsal order.*

TIME CHANGE SUNDAY SLATED FOR MARCH 8TH - THIS IS THE "BAD" ONE...

As the Easter season approaches, we come upon our annual opportunity to "spring forward" and preserve daylight hours. While this can be wonderful in the autumn season, it's a bit of a challenge at this time of year. It's vital that you begin planning now to move your clocks forward on Saturday evening, March 7th - put a note on your refrigerator or your bathroom mirror - schedule it in Outlook or Entourage - whatever it takes, just make note of it so we'll have you in your place and ready to go that Sunday morning. Remember, it's time for a change!
